The Price of Products.

Do you realize that the farmers of Curry County are growing their crops at an actual loss?

That farmers at a distance from the railroad point cannot pay the cost of threshing and transportation for the price received for their grain?

While Curry County is much more prosperous than most of the agricultural counties of the United States, rural people are suffering severely by depressed prices. Farmers who have other trades they can take up are planning to let their land lay idle next year and work for wages, other farmers are planning to make a living for themselves, to live at home and not purchase anything they can get along without. In spite of this section being especially favored, the agricultural producers are feeling the pressure severely. Every citizen, both producers and consumers should use their influence to see that producers should receive a fair price to enable them to continue the good work of feeding the world.

The diversified farmer with dairy cows, hogs and poultry is able to tide over the severest times.

It has even been properly said: "The diversified farmer who raises hogs, dairy cows and poultry cannot be overcome by low prices."
